	EYFS The Early Years children visited Redland Green this week to search for signs of spring. We listened carefully to the different birdsong, noticed lots of spring flowers and marvelled at all the different shades of green we could see. There was even time to use our skills of friendship and collaboration on the play equipment while we were there.
Reading Session in May	The how to support my child's reading session for parents will outline how reading is taught across the national curriculum (Years 1-6). All parents are welcome but please be aware that we will not be talking specifically about phonics and decoding.

Parent/Carer Reading Session

How to support my child's reading

- What does fluency mean?
- What useful questions can I ask my child when I hear them read?
- How to know your inference from your predictions!
